EYES MOISTEN AS U. S. FLAG IS HAULED DOWN

HUGE FLAG FLUTTERS TO FOOT OF POLE AT COBLENZ, GERMANY

Two American Machine Gunners, Honor Men Who Had Come Through From Chateau Thierry, Pulled Gently On the Ropes

French and American Military Guard Rigid in Attention; Flag Caught in Arms of General Allen, Commanding Last Remnant of American Army of Occupation

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Coblenz, Germany, Jan. 24.—"Oh, say can you see—"
The opening strains of the national anthem from the French military bands blared out through a packed square at Coblenz promptly at noon.

The Stars and Stripes on the tall flag pole fluttered an instant as two American machine gunners, honor men who had come through Chateau-Thierry pulled gently on the ropes.

A French and American military guard was rigid in attention as the flag came down. Crowds of German and French, many with wet eyes, pushed forward to witness the ceremony.

The huge flag sank slowly to the foot of the pole where General Allen, commanding the last remnant of the American army of occupation caught it in his arms, and folded it.

German Industrial Leaders are Court Martialed

Mayence, Jan. 24.—Trial by court martial of Fritz Thyssen and six other German industrial leaders opened today.

The Court of Justice here was packed. Many international journalists were present.

French troops with bayoneted rifles guarded the court room inside and outside. Thyssen, who was taken ill on the eve of the trial, stoutly maintained he would obey only the German law.

10 Killed in Building Collapse

Berlin, Jan. 24.—Ten to eighteen employees of the Berliner Tageblatt were killed today when heavy blocks of stone and material crashed down through four stories of the building, according to announcement by the management.

The dead include several women. Sixteen persons were severely injured and scores slightly. Earlier estimates by police had placed the death toll from fifteen to fifty.

A huge crane, swinging heavy blocks of stone and construction work on two new stories to be erected over the building, broke. Great stones and heavy metal parts of the crane fell smashing down through the departments where many employees were busily at work. Four lines of police were thrown around the building. The streets were filled with clanging ambulances. Scores of rescue workers went into the tangled ruins of the editorial and mechanical departments of the paper in search of victims buried beneath tons of wreckage.

Screams of relatives in the streets outside, held back by police, thrilling whistles; shouts of those directing the rescue work, these following the roar of the collapse, drew thousands to the scene.

The ground floor of the Tageblatt building was a mass of plaster, steel and stones; being searched by sweating workers with difficulty dragging forth victims, some alive, others crushed beyond recognition.

Reports as to the cause of the crash were conflicting at first. Some blamed defective material; others the top heaviness of the building upon which two new stories were to be placed.

A staff of laborers who were at work on the new stories said none of them had been injured. The casualties were confined to clerical, editorial and mechanical employees.

(By United Press)
Court House Bastrop, La., Jan. 24.—Payroll and time sheets relied on to break the alibi of T. J. Burnett, charged with the brutal murder of Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards, have apparently been altered, H. B. Riordan, general superintendent of the Southern Carbon Company's plant at Spyker, testified in the open hearing here today.

A wide discrepancy between the number of hours marked on the time book and the number marked on his payroll sheets opposite Burnett's name was testified to by Riordan.

The cancelled wage check of Burnett during the last half of August corresponds in amount with the time book and not the time sheet, the witness said.

Riordan took the witness stand after a conference with officials conducting the probe of terrorist activities in Morehouse parish. He was armed with payrolls, time books, cancelled vouchers and other records.

Burnett since his arrest has contended he was at work in the company's carbon plant the night Daniels and Richards were murdered by the hooded mob.

Officials announced an attempt will be made to indict Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops, and other local leaders of the Ku Klux Klan, in connection with the murders.

Whether this move preceded further conciliation on the part of the French or was preliminary to establishment of a military cordon around the frontiers, was not made known. Germans today charged the French

The man sent telegrams to hotels asking them to hold his mail and pay express charges on radio equipment addressed to him from the American Radio company, Minneapolis. In the same telegram he also made reservations.

A letter would always precede arrival of express packages according to word received here. Some of the letters held for him were opened and were found to contain only pages torn from a weekly magazine.

Packages arriving were found to contain newspapers and in nearly every case hotels paid $12.98 for the packages shipped express collect. They were about eight inches square.

The Markham hotel at Bemidji was also victimized. Letters sent there were on the stationery of the West Hotel, Minneapolis.

SNOW FALLING STEADY IN NEW YORK, SIX INCHES DEPTH EXPECTED BY NIGHTFALL

(By United Press.)
New York, Jan. 24.—Heavy snows reaching gale force in many localities swept the entire Atlantic seaboard today from the Canadian border to Georgia.

Georgia and the two Carolinas, where warmer weather is to be expected at this time of the year, were the worst hit. Street traffic in some cities is almost completely tied up, and trees and buildings were bolted over by the high wind.

In New York the snow is falling steady, and six inches is expected by nightfall.

INDICTMENTS ARE FOUND AGAINST 45 ALLEGED GAMBLERS

THE GRAND JURY EMPLOYED ITS OWN INVESTIGATORS IN PROBE

INCLUDES A NUMBER OF PROMINENT AND WELL TO DO CITIZENS

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Jan. 24.—Without the knowledge of Mayor George E. Leach or the assistance of police, the Hennepin county grand jury returned indictments against the 45 alleged gamblers and early today a score were under arrest.

The grand jury employed its own investigators in the gambling probe. The list of indictments is reported to include a number of prominent and well to do citizens.

The names of those held in jail will not be revealed until all warrants are served, it was stated.

Mayor Leach admitted he had no knowledge of the grand jury action until the warrants were issued. Chief of Police Jensen expressed surprise.

Many of the men indicted fled town on advance information, deputies reported. Members of the Minnesota law enforcement league are said to have provided the grand jury with much of its evidence.

"WILD PARTY" BY HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

(By United Press)
Chicago, Jan. 24.—Sixteen pupils of the Oak Park high school were expelled today as a result of a "wild party" held at the home of one of them last week. School authorities made every effort to keep the affair secret and refused to make public the names of the pupils.

An investigation will be made to determine if any of the scholars shall be reinstated.

The party was attended by eight boys and eight girls and did not break up until early in the morning, according to students at the school.

French Withdraw From Larger Cities

Essen, Jan. 24.—French troops in the Ruhr were withdrawn from the larger cities today and quartered in nearby villages.

Patrols and staff headquarters remained in Essen, Bochum, Dortmund and other industrial centers, but the bulk of the army of occupation was scattered among the Ruhr farms.

Whether this move preceded further conciliation on the part of the French or was preliminary to establishment of a military cordon around the frontiers, was not made known. Germans today charged the French with deliberately spreading untrue reports of the "troop movements in Germany."

The French stated that they had information of such; German officials and the war office declared the reports unqualifiedly false.

Headquarters of the Thyssen plant at Hamburg announced that workers in the Thyssen industries will resume their labors pending outcome of the Mayence trial.

Many workers at Hugo Stinnes' plant may return to work under the same conditions. The French are not anxious to precipitate a crisis in the Ruhr, and punishment of the coal operators, it is feared, would be certain to bring on trouble. Miners in the Ruhr were given bonuses today because of an unprecedented jump in prices.

Are Heavily Fined

Mayence, Jan. 24.—German industrial leaders of the Ruhr were heavily fined by a French court martial here today for disobedience of orders of the French military commanders.

Herr Spindler was fined $71,700 francs, which at the present rate of exchange amounts to 550,000,000 marks. Herr Olfe was fined 235,000 francs. Fritz Thyssen was fined 5,000 francs, and the others from 6,000 to 15,000 francs each.

INDICTMENTS ARE FOUND AGAINST 45 ALLEGED GAMBLERS

THE GRAND JURY EMPLOYED ITS OWN INVESTIGATORS IN PROBE

INCLUDES A NUMBER OF PROMINENT AND WELL TO DO CITIZENS

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Jan. 24.—Without the knowledge of Mayor George E. Leach or the assistance of police, the Hennepin county grand jury returned indictments against the 45 alleged gamblers and early today a score were under arrest.

The grand jury employed its own investigators in the gambling probe. The list of indictments is reported to include a number of prominent and well to do citizens.

The names of those held in jail will not be revealed until all warrants are served, it was stated.

Mayor Leach admitted he had no knowledge of the grand jury action until the warrants were issued. Chief of Police Jensen expressed surprise.

Many of the men indicted fled town on advance information, deputies reported. Members of the Minnesota law enforcement league are said to have provided the grand jury with much of its evidence.

"WILD PARTY" BY HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

(By United Press)
Chicago, Jan. 24.—Sixteen pupils of the Oak Park high school were expelled today as a result of a "wild party" held at the home of one of them last week. School authorities made every effort to keep the affair secret and refused to make public the names of the pupils.

An investigation will be made to determine if any of the scholars shall be reinstated.

The party was attended by eight boys and eight girls and did not break up until early in the morning, according to students at the school.

DEBTS OF ALLIES UNDER DISCUSSION

League of Women Voters Enjoys Supper at Congregational Church and Debate

HAVE COMMUNITY SINGING

Debate Led by Rev. Errington and R. S. Wilcox, Summed Up by Judge Walter F. Wieland

The League of Women Voters' supper at the Congregational church last evening was a decided success from the stand point of numbers interest, community feeling (as expressed in song) and round-table discussion. If Mr. Bryn Jones had been there, he couldn't say, again that he had never heard people in this country discuss their political problems, but, from the stand point of making progress toward world peace, it was rather discouraging.

After a splendid dinner, Mrs. W. A. Erickson gave a most successful demonstration of her ability as a leader in community singing. She even accomplished the difficult task of teaching the audience a new popular song, which they sang with considerable zest. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Walter Wieland, at the organ and Dr. G. I. Badeaux. Spontaneous applause greeted the announcement that Dr. Badeaux would sing the new song and chorus through and then the audience would be asked to repeat the chorus.

Announcement was made of the visit of Mrs. Sumner McKnight to Brainerd on the evening of February sixth. Mrs. McKnight, besides being one of the most popular social leaders of Minneapolis, is chairman of the fifth district for the League of Women Voters, and she will tell of the accomplishments along the lines of political education, public welfare legislation, and government efficiency in that district. Mrs. McKnight comes to Brainerd without any compensation. On hearing this statement, one of the men said: "Then the least Brainerd can do is to give her a good audience." It is hoped that another dinner can be arranged for that occasion, of which announcement will be made later.

The chairman then stated that the object of the discussion of the subject of forgiving the Allies their debts, was to find out the sentiment of the people, all over the country on this important subject; tabulate the results, and present them to Congress. These round-table discussions are being held in every city in the country where there are organized Women Voter's Leagues. Ten such groups have been arranged in the city of Minneapolis, for instance. It is hoped that different groups in Brainerd, such as the Men's club of the Methodist Church and the Northeast Brainerd Improvement Association, will ask Rev. Errington and Mr. R. S. Wilcox to lead them in a general discussion of this subject.

Each of the leaders gave a clear, strong presentation of his side of the case. Mrs. Early was then called upon to start the round-table, and she spoke in her characteristically clear and forceful manner and was followed by Mr. W. D. McKay, Dr. A. K. Cohen, Miss Louise Barrett, Mr. Wm. Cleary, Judge McClennahan, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, Mr. Hitchcock, and Mr. W. C. Cobb.

The arguments of each side were then clearly and concisely summarized by Judge Walter F. Wieland as follows:

The affirmative contended debts should be canceled because we were all partners in the great war, associated in a common enterprise for a common purpose and that we were best able to provide the raw materials manufactured products and the munitions so necessary to our allies, and that the debts were created because of purchases of materials in this country.

The negative contended that while it was true that we were engaged in a common enterprise, it was not so treated by our allies. That when we were in France we paid in cash to the French government for everything that we got and even vast sums in damages for destruction of French roads and for the use of right of ways to move the troops. That we paid in cash and our allies paid us in notes which they now seek to repudiate.

The affirmative contended that we should cancel the debts from an economic standpoint, in that the goodwill of the world would be obtained and that is an economic asset, that can be capitalized.

The negative maintained that in so doing we would harm the countries whose debts we forgave more than we would benefit them, because when such a situation is brought about, it necessarily results in a lack of respect. Europe would not respect us for so doing but would believe that we were sentimental, easy marks and would not respect themselves as much as if each country worked hard and paid its debt.

The affirmative held that by imposing a condition that Europe disarm and straighten out their affairs, before cancellation, that we would make a bid for Europe so doing, and that Europe under this pressure might do that for itself where it would not on its own initiative.

The contention of the negative was that disarmament could only be brought about by a treaty and that after such a treaty was made and the debts had been canceled, experience had taught that treaties would probably be treated as "scraps of paper," and that Europe after being rid of this large debt would be the better able to violate these treaties of disarmament and to arm heavily.

DEBTS OF ALLIES UNDER DISCUSSION

League of Women Voters Enjoys Supper at Congregational Church and Debate

HAVE COMMUNITY SINGING

Debate Led by Rev. Errington and R. S. Wilcox, Summed Up by Judge Walter F. Wieland

The League of Women Voters' supper at the Congregational church last evening was a decided success from the stand point of numbers interest, community feeling (as expressed in song) and round-table discussion. If Mr. Bryn Jones had been there, he couldn't say, again that he had never heard people in this country discuss their political problems, but, from the stand point of making progress toward world peace, it was rather discouraging.

After a splendid dinner, Mrs. W. A. Erickson gave a most successful demonstration of her ability as a leader in community singing. She even accomplished the difficult task of teaching the audience a new popular song, which they sang with considerable zest. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Walter Wieland, at the organ and Dr. G. I. Badeaux. Spontaneous applause greeted the announcement that Dr. Badeaux would sing the new song and chorus through and then the audience would be asked to repeat the chorus.

Announcement was made of the visit of Mrs. Sumner McKnight to Brainerd on the evening of February sixth. Mrs. McKnight, besides being one of the most popular social leaders of Minneapolis, is chairman of the fifth district for the League of Women Voters, and she will tell of the accomplishments along the lines of political education, public welfare legislation, and government efficiency in that district. Mrs. McKnight comes to Brainerd without any compensation. On hearing this statement, one of the men said: "Then the least Brainerd can do is to give her a good audience." It is hoped that another dinner can be arranged for that occasion, of which announcement will be made later.

The chairman then stated that the object of the discussion of the subject of forgiving the Allies their debts, was to find out the sentiment of the people, all over the country on this important subject; tabulate the results, and present them to Congress. These round-table discussions are being held in every city in the country where there are organized Women Voter's Leagues. Ten such groups have been arranged in the city of Minneapolis, for instance. ## CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

WHEN the pendulum is swinging back in so many parts of the world it is not surprising that it should swing back in Minnesota. All past efforts that led to the more humane consideration of criminals are likely to be swept away and capital punishment restored in this state.

Without dwelling at length on the ancient commandments that are used for and against the killing of criminals by the state, it may be said frankly that the actions of the state cannot be entirely robbed of their relation to the individuals who compose the state. It is true that our social order accepts the position that the right of life and death for the individual rests with the state which may send its sons to die for its interests in a conflict with other states. This, however, does not lift the responsibility from the citizens of the state, who as individuals, or through their representatives, declare themselves in favor of going into the fight in which the sons of the state give their lives at the call of their government. This is equally true of capital punishment. Citizens cannot sit back and affirm: We are not responsible for the hanging or the electrocution; the state did it. What the state does is simply an expression of the will of the citizens of the state, and each and every citizen is responsible for what the state does.

The "eye for an eye" attitude to life reverts to tribal conditions and is not in harmony with the more Christian conceptions of relationships that are expected to underlie governments which are nominally Christian. This does not presuppose that the Man of Galilee definitely affirmed that the state could not take the life of the individual, but it does assume that the implications of his teachings lead away from such practices.

There is no consistency in human decisions and movements. Back and forward, forward and backward, we go. A careless drift in to the lax ways of living, into disrespect for law, into sickly sentimentalism, into imposing penalties that are seldom exacted, into a legal system that is insisting upon technicalities of law at the expense of the majesty of law, these have led to an inevitable reaction and to check one drift we are to drift back into a state previously repudiated by the humanized intelligence of this commonwealth.

The reflection is on the intelligence that, having removed the death penalty in favor of other punishment, has not been able to impose the penalties introduced. It is not because we have found that our present system does not work, but because we have found that we have failed to work the system, that we are demanding capital punishment. Capital punishment or life imprisonment; whether we have one or the other, technicalities of law may defeat the ends of justice. That the criminal is punished and not how he is punished is the important matter, and unless our attitude to law is changed the prisoner who would not serve out his sentence will not be executed.

SWAPPING HORSES

EVEN expert horsemen have often been deceived by the appearance of a good-looking horse. They have been impelled to exchange the sound horse they knew for the good-looking horse they did not know. This is just what many are asking the people of this country to do with their money system, change the sound system that they know for the promise of something that is pleasing to the eye and that promises better things, but which they are likely to find is more good-looking than practical and useful. A good-looking horse sometimes has a catch in the wind and a currency system that looks well may have a similar defect.

Those who are always swapping are bound to get stung. Changing for the better is desirable but there is no proof that it will be better until it is tried. To try it, the old horse or the old tried system must be cast aside, and one has to pay something to boot to swap back again.

The fault is not always in the horse, it is quite as often in the driver. An intelligent driver makes a well-trained horse. If the horse shows a bad temper the driver is often to blame and ought to be put to school to learn how to handle the horse. This is true of our currency system. It is not to blame for the faults of those who handle it. To blame it for the failings of those who manipulate it is no more fair than condemning the horse because of the faults of its driver.

It is certain that we cannot get the best out of either horse or money until we understand the horse or the money. The president of the American Bankers association knows this and has said recently: "Enlightened leadership and sanity of public attitude can undoubtedly control the situation for the general good. That which is right will ultimately have the greatest force before the country." Exactly. A sane public attitude will get good service out of our present currency system, as a good driver who understands the horse will get out of him his very best in strength or speed.

Increased intelligence will get results from our present system, and having the most stable system in the world, only an intelligence that is dangerously adventurous would bid us swap what we have, but have not thoroughly understood and used, for something that looks pleasing but like the horse may have a catch in the wind.

FARMERS ON FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

THE country will be best served and the voices of unrest silenced most completely by a constructive program. Merely telling the people that things are all right and that they are not to question does not silence questioners. If things are all right questions will not be asked, and, therefore, the best way to answer questions is to put things right.

The farmers of the nation have concluded that things are not all right. Their votes in the last election expressed their feelings more forcefully than mutterings and murmurings. They have been led to follow radical leaders and favors a radical program. They are ready to listen to attacks on our money system, not because farmers are characteristically fond of change, but because the present system has not been serving them well. All that is necessary to save the system is to make it work satisfactorily. Arguments cannot uphold a bad system and a system that works will never be defeated by talk.

The administration has decided to make the system work for the farmers by allowing the farmers to work the system. That the results of such a decision will be good is almost certain. Because farmers are not bankers is no reason why they should fail to handle the financing of agriculture. Henry Ford was not banker but he has proved to be a wizard at financing the Ford interests. The farmers have secured representation on the Federal Reserve board, these representatives will educate the farmers, the farmers will apply their knowledge, and while business and industry are served by representatives, the farmers of the nation will be protected by those who are pledged to their interests.

All the farmers are asking is that they receive a fair proportion of the nation's money as an investment in what is as important to the country as business or industry. Their claims are fair, are admitted, and are to be granted through representation on the Federal Reserve Board.

THE Minneapolis Journal, says in reporting a speech by J. H. Puelicher, president of the American Bankers association, in which the speaker had mentioned the value of common sense, "But like our ancestors it must be developed." We will have a task developing our ancestors. What a lot of trouble it would save us if we could develop them. But perhaps the speaker said "assets."

APPARENTLY the members of the cabinet don't all play in harmony when the score is "Reparations."

THEY say a Ford can go anywhere. Well, it may. But it's an awful climb to the White House.

KANSAS EDITOR PUTS AD IN PAPER FOR BID TO CHICKEN DINNER

Emporia, Kan., Jan. 24.—A new use for advertising has been found by William Allen White, Emporia editor, who obtained an invitation for a chicken dinner through an advertisement in his Emporia Gazette. After Mrs. White had left Emporia for New York, the editor inserted his advertisement:

"Public notice: Mrs. W. A. White has gone to New York, called there by the illness of her sister.

"Mr. W. A. White is in Emporia. "How about Sunday dinner?"

"This is not only an opportunity but a duty, as we have said before on many cases of public need.

"Don't all speak at once, but phone 28 after 6 o'clock."

By 6:30 Mr. White had received 20 invitations for dinner and the telephone still was busy. He ate chicken with Willis Kerr, librarian at the Kansas state normal, the first to answer the notice.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

WHEN the pendulum is swinging back in so many parts of the world it is not surprising that it should swing back in Minnesota. All past efforts that led to the more humane consideration of criminals are likely to be swept away and capital punishment restored in this state.

Without dwelling at length on the ancient commandments that are used for and against the killing of criminals by the state, it may be said frankly that the actions of the state cannot be entirely robbed of their relation to the individuals who compose the state. It is true that our social order accepts the position that the right of life and death for the individual rests with the state which may send its sons to die for its interests in a conflict with other states. This, however, does not lift the responsibility from the citizens of the state, who as individuals, or through their representatives, declare themselves in favor of going into the fight in which the sons of the state give their lives at the call of their government. This is equally true of capital punishment. Citizens cannot sit back and affirm: We are not responsible for the hanging or the electrocution; the state did it. What the state does is simply an expression of the will of the citizens of the state, and each and every citizen is responsible for what the state does.

The "eye for an eye" attitude to life reverts to tribal conditions and is not in harmony with the more Christian conceptions of relationships that are expected to underlie governments which are nominally Christian. This does not presuppose that the Man of Galilee definitely affirmed that the state could not take the life of the individual, but it does assume that the implications of his teachings lead away from such practices.

There is no consistency in human decisions and movements. Back and forward, forward and backward, we go. A careless drift in to the lax ways of living, into disrespect for law, into sickly sentimentalism, into imposing penalties that are seldom exacted, into a legal system that is insisting upon technicalities of law at the expense of the majesty of law, these have led to an inevitable reaction and to check one drift we are to drift back into a state previously repudiated by the humanized intelligence of this commonwealth.

The reflection is on the intelligence that, having removed the death penalty in favor of other punishment, has not been able to impose the penalties introduced. It is not because we have found that our present system does not work, but because we have found that we have failed to work the system, that we are demanding capital punishment. Capital punishment or life imprisonment; whether we have one or the other, technicalities of law may defeat the ends of justice. That the criminal is punished and not how he is punished is the important matter, and unless our attitude to law is changed the prisoner who would not serve out his sentence will not be executed.

SWAPPING HORSES

EVEN expert horsemen have often been deceived by the appearance of a good-looking horse. They have been impelled to exchange the sound horse they knew for the good-looking horse they did not know. This is just what many are asking the people of this country to do with their money system, change the sound system that they know for the promise of something that is pleasing to the eye and that promises better things, but which they are likely to find is more good-looking than practical and useful. A good-looking horse sometimes has a catch in the wind and a currency system that looks well may have a similar defect.

Those who are always swapping are bound to get stung. Changing for the better is desirable but there is no proof that it will be better until it is tried. To try it, the old horse or the old and tried system must be cast aside, and one has to pay something to boot to swap back again.

The fault is not always in the horse, it is quite as often in the driver. An intelligent driver makes a well-trained horse. If the horse shows a bad temper the driver is often to blame and ought to be put to school to learn how to handle the horse. This is true of our currency system. It is not to blame for the faults of those who handle it. To blame it for the failings of those who manipulate it is no more fair than condemning the horse because of the faults of its driver.

It is certain that we cannot get the best out of either horse or money until we understand the horse or the money. The president of the American Bankers association knows this and has said recently: "Enlightened leadership and sanity of public attitude can undoubtedly control the situation for the general good. That which is right will ultimately have the greatest force before the country." Exactly. A sane public attitude will get good service out of our present currency system, as a good driver who understands the horse will get out of him his very best in strength or speed.

Increased intelligence will get results from our present system and, having the most stable system in the world, only an intelligence that is dangerously adventurous would bid us swap what we have, but have not thoroughly understood and used, for something that looks pleasing but like the horse may have a catch in the wind.

FARMERS ON FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

THE country will be best served and the voices of unrest silenced most completely by a constructive program. Merely telling the people that things are all right and that they are not to question does not silence questioners. If things are all right questions will not be asked, and, therefore, the best way to answer questions is to put things right.

The farmers of the nation have concluded that things are not all right. Their votes in the last election expressed their feelings more forcefully than mutterings and murmurings. They have been led to follow radical leaders and favors a radical program. They are ready to listen to attacks on our money system, not because farmers are characteristically fond of change, but because the present system has not been serving them well. All that is necessary to save the system is to make it work satisfactorily. Arguments cannot uphold a bad system and a system that works will never be defeated by talk.

The administration has decided to make the system work for the farmers by allowing the farmers to work the system. That the results of such a decision will be good is almost certain. Because farmers are not bankers is no reason why they should fail to handle the financing of agriculture. Henry Ford was not banker but he has proved to be a wizard at financing the Ford interests. The farmers have secured representation on the Federal Reserve board, these representatives will educate the farmers, the farmers will apply their knowledge, and while business and industry are served by representatives, the farmers of the nation will be protected by those who are pledged to their interests.

All the farmers are asking is that they receive a fair proportion of the nation's money as an investment in what is as important to the country as business or industry. Their claims are fair, are admitted, and are to be granted through representation on the Federal Reserve Board.

THE Minneapolis Journal, says in reporting a speech by J. H. Puelicher, president of the American Bankers association, in which the speaker had mentioned the value of common sense, "But like our ancestors it must be developed." We will have a task developing our ancestors. What a lot of trouble it would save us if we could develop them. But perhaps the speaker said "assets."

APPARENTLY the members of the cabinet don't all play in harmony when the score is "Reparations."

THEY say a Ford can go anywhere. Well, it may. But it's an awful climb to the White House.

RURAL TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

To Meet at the Court House on Saturday Afternoon, Entirely Informal Gathering

TEACHERS READING CIRCLE

In Which Many of the Rural Instructors are Interested, will be Discussed

The rural teachers of the county will meet in the superintendent's office at the court house on Saturday afternoon. The meeting which starts at two o'clock, will be informal and will be in charge of Anna Gordon and Emma Jaeger.

Mrs. Irma Hartley, County Superintendent, will bring up the matter of a teachers reading circle, in which many of the rural instructors are much interested. Light refreshments will be served.

Twenty-two normal cadets from the training class at the high school are doing practice work in the rural schools for two weeks, under the direction of the Misses Verna Waterman and Selma Molstad of the Normal Training staff, and Superintendent Hartley.

This is the largest class of cadets in the history of the local high school, most of the students being former graduates of the institution.

Later in the term the Crosby-Ironton high school will send their teachers training class, consisting of ten cadets to the rural schools for the same practice, extending over a two week period.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. A. F. Sorenson Entertained for her Mother, Mrs. Hannah A. Olson

Mrs. A. F. Sorenson, 801 Fir Street, entertained seven intimate friends of her mother, Mrs. Hannah A. Olson, on Saturday afternoon, the occasion being Mrs. Olson's seventy-ninth birthday.

The ladies enjoyed the time in recalling incidents in the early days of the city, since all are pioneers in this section. Many long-forgotten occasions were brought to mind and each reminiscence given its full quota of discussion.

Mrs. Sorenson served a dainty luncheon, including a birthday cake of angel food and a Martha Washington cake.

The guests, included the Mesdames Sigrid Swanson, Julia Narveson, Annie Osterlund, Peter Hedlund, Minnie Carlson, August Olson and William Nelson.

Surprise Party

Miss Marguerite O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. O'Brien was most pleasantly surprised at the home of her parents last Friday evening, by a party of her schoolmates.

The evening was most enjoyably spent in playing amusing games and dancing. A most daintily appointed luncheon was served by Mrs. O'Brien, which was greatly appreciated by the young folks.

The guests of the evening were Katherine Cleary, Marion Linneman, Florence McGivern, Lena Gravel, Dorothy Deering, John Fisher, Joe Ryan, Bernard Mraz, William Cleary, Calvin Orth and Vincent Kampman.

AUTO, TRACTOR SCHOOL

Inquiry in Feasibility of Establishing Such an Institution in Brainerd

The Chamber of Commerce has had several opportunities to encourage the opening of auto and tractor schools in Brainerd, but felt inclined to look into the matter carefully before doing anything definite in the matter.

The secretary wrote to August Hanson, head of the Hanson Auto and Tractor school of Fargo, N. D., one of the largest in the Northwest, for his opinion as to whether Brainerd would be a good location for such an enterprise and if his school would consider putting in a branch here.

In answering this letter, Mr. Hanson states that he would hesitate in starting such a school in a city of Brainerd's size, since it is his experience that students prefer to go to the large cities for this training.

Also, it would take at least three hundred enrollments to make such an institution, and the drawing territory of the country tributary to our city would hardly furnish this number in Mr. Hanson's opinion.

Those who have considered Brainerd with a view to establishing an auto and tractor school, seemed inclined to feel that, contrary to Mr. Hanson, this city is arranged advantageously, for such an institution, with a large territory on the north, east and west which is not tributary to a similar school.

With the development of this region as an agricultural country, more tractors and automobiles will be used, making it important that at least one member of every rural family be familiar with gasoline locomotion.

If that knowledge could be obtained in Brainerd, it would do much toward drawing farm trade to our city.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney troubles and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what a Brainerd man says:

S. J. Greer, horseshoer, 822 7th St., S., Brainerd, says: "When I was young I had an accident that affected my kidneys. Sometimes when I caught a cold and it settled there, When I was working, the constant bending and strain on my back irritated my kidneys. When I got down to put a shoe on a horse it was about all I could do to get up again. I was sure in pain and it became hard for me to do my work properly. My kidneys didn't act right, but when I got to using Doan's Kidney Pills, I was fixed up in good shape. I have had little or no kidney trouble since and my health has been fine."

RURAL TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

To Meet at the Court House on Saturday Afternoon, Entirely Informal Gathering

TEACHERS READING CIRCLE

In Which Many of the Rural Instructors are Interested, will be Discussed

The rural teachers of the county will meet in the superintendent's office at the court house on Saturday afternoon. The meeting which starts at two o'clock, will be informal and will be in charge of Anna Gordon and Emma Jaeger.

Mrs. Irma Hartley, County Superintendent, will bring up the matter of a teachers reading circle, in which many of the rural instructors are much interested. Light refreshments will be served.

Twenty-two normal cadets from the training class at the high school are doing practice work in the rural schools for two weeks, under the direction of the Misses Verna Waterman and Selma Molstad of the Normal Training staff, and Superintendent Hartley.

This is the largest class of cadets in the history of the local high school, most of the students being former graduates of the institution.

Later in the term the Crosby-Ironton high school will send their teachers training class, consisting of ten cadets to the rural schools for the same practice, extending over a two week period.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. A. F. Sorenson, 801 Fir Street, entertained seven intimate friends of her mother, Mrs. Hannah A. Olson, on Saturday afternoon, the occasion being Mrs. Olson's seventy-ninth birthday.

The ladies enjoyed the time in recalling incidents in the early days of the city, since all are pioneers in this section. Many long-forgotten occasions were brought to mind and each reminiscence given its full quota of discussion.

Mrs. Sorenson served a dainty luncheon, including a birthday cake of angel food and a Martha Washington cake.

The guests included the Mesdames Sigrid Swanson, Julia Narveson, Annie Osterlund, Peter Hedlund, Minnie Carlson, August Olson and William Nelson.

Surprise Party

Miss Marguerite O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. O'Brien was most pleasantly surprised at the home of her parents last Friday evening, by a party of her schoolmates.

The evening was most enjoyably spent in playing amusing games and dancing. A most daintily appointed luncheon was served by Mrs. O'Brien which was greatly appreciated by the young folks.

The guests of the evening were Katherine Cleary, Marion Linneman, Florence McGivern, Lena Gravell, Dorothy Deering, John Fisher, Joe Ryan, Bernard Mraz, William Cleary, Calvin Orth and Vincent Kampman.

AUTO, TRACTOR SCHOOL

Inquiry in Feasibility of Establishing Such an Institution in Brainerd

The Chamber of Commerce has had several opportunities to encourage the opening of auto and tractor schools in Brainerd, but felt inclined to look into the matter carefully before doing anything definite in the matter.

The secretary wrote to August Hanson, head of the Hanson Auto and Tractor school of Fargo, N. D., one of the largest in the Northwest, for his opinion as to whether Brainerd would be a good location for such an enterprise and if his school would consider putting in a branch here.

In answering this letter, Mr. Hanson states that he would hesitate in starting such a school in a city of Brainerd's size, since it is his experience that students prefer to go to the large cities for this training.

Also, it would take at least three hundred enrollments to make such an institution, and the drawing territory of the country tributary to our city would hardly furnish this number in Mr. Hanson's opinion.

Those who have considered Brainerd with a view to establishing an auto and tractor school, seemed inclined to feel that, contrary to Mr. Hanson, this city is arranged advantageously, for such an institution, with a large territory on the north-east and west which is not tributary to a similar school.

With the development of this region as an agricultural country, more tractors and automobiles will be used, making it important that at least one member of every rural family be familiar with gasoline locomotion.

If that knowledge could be obtained in Brainerd, it would do much toward drawing farm trade to our city.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney troubles and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what a Brainerd man says:

S. J. Greer, horseshoer, 822 7th St., S., Brainerd, says: "When I was young I had an accident that affected my kidneys. Sometimes when I caught a cold and it settled there. When I was working, the constant bending and strain on my back irritated my kidneys. When I got down to put a shoe on a horse it was about all I could do to get up again. I sure was in pain and it became hard for me to do my work properly. My kidneys didn't act right, but when I got to using Doan's Kidney Pills I was fixed up in good shape. I have had little or no kidney trouble since and my health has been fine. Get at all dealers. Foster-McBurn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

C. A. Hoffman Named Treasurer, Directors are Messrs. Peterson, Tanner, Erickson

The Brainerd Country Club held its annual meeting Tuesday night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, some thirty members being present.

The meeting was exceptionally enthusiastic and was conceded to be the best since the club was organized.

It is felt that this association is a real asset to the city, and should be developed to its utmost. It was the sense of the meeting that every member should do all in his or her power to improve the organization and to influence others to join.

The officers elected for the coming year are:

President—Mons Mahlum.
Vice President—F. A. Farrar.
Secretary—W. R. Hiller.
Treasurer—C. A. Hoffman.

Directors elected for three years are O. A. Peterson, L. R. Tanner and Dr. W. A. Erickson. Dr. C. G. Nordin was elected director to complete the unexpired term of Mons Mahlum, who was elected president. A director's meeting will be held on Monday evening at the chamber.

In closing the work of the past year, the club feels that it has accomplished much. There were fifty-six members at the beginning of the year, and to this number have been added three regular and fourteen associate and junior members, making a total of seventy-three in all.

'STEAMING UP' HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 24—Jess Willard's belated howl that Jack Dempsey put something over on him at Toledo in 1919 failed to create any excitement. It was accepted casually and considered rather to be expected since it has become a custom for defeated heavyweight champions to cry that they didn't lose on the level.

Willard did not go into details about the stunts pulled to relieve him of his title, but it is thought that he has in mind the old story that Dempsey had his fists packed in cement when he went into the ring.

Jimmy De Forest, who trained Dempsey for the fight, and who handled him in the ring in Toledo, was once quoted as saying that Dempsey had on "Kid McCoy's bandages," but De Forest later denied the story, and said that he put nothing but the regulation tape on his hands.

Willard, however, and a good many other fans have never been able to figure why the champion fairly mashed in Willard's face on that particular occasion when he hardly left marks on his numerous other victims.

Dempsey can come back perhaps with some good argument in the claim that he never had hit anyone like he hit Willard to put him out.

For the next three months anything that Willard says must be taken as pure "steam."

As far as that goes everything that anyone connected with heavy-weight boxing has to say before the middle of next summer might be discounted as ballyhoo for Dempsey's next fight.

Scraps for the heavyweight championship have become such tremendous business propositions that it takes almost a year to get over with one. It requires miles of columns and tons of words.

The miles of words and the tons of conversation will be dished out from now until next July.

CAPPER ASKS LAW TO STOP HASTY MARRIAGES

Washington, Jan. 24—Legislation designed to stop "hasty and foolish marriages" and to make divorce harder, was introduced in the senate by Senator Arthur Capper (rep. Kan.). Capper presented a bill to be known as the federal marriage and divorce law, and a constitutional amendment, to give congress power to enact such a law.

Let Convictions Be Firm.
To be long for this thing today and that thing tomorrow; to change likings for loathings, and to stand wishing and hankering at a venture—how is it possible for any man to be at rest in this fluctuating humor and opinion?—L'Estrange.

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists.

'STEAMING UP' HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 24.—Jess Willard's belated howl that Jack Dempsey put something over on him at Toledo in 1919 failed to create any excitement. It was accepted casually and considered rather to be expected since it has become a custom for defeated heavyweight champions to cry that they didn't lose on the level.

Willard did not go into details about the stunts pulled to relive him of his title, but it is thought that he has in mind the old story that Dempsey had his fists packed in cement when he went into the ring.

Jimmy De Forest, who trained Dempsey for the fight, and who handed him in the ring in Toledo, was once quoted as saying that Dempsey had on "Kid McCoy's bandages," but De Forest later denied the story, and said that he put nothing but the regulation tape on his hands.

Willard, however, and a good many other fans have never been able to figure why the champion fairly mashed in Willard's face on that particular occasion when he hardly left marks on his numerous other victims.

Dempsey can come back perhaps with some good argument in the claim that he never had hit anyone like he hit Willard to put him out.

For the next three months anything that Willard says must be taken as pure "steam."

As far as that goes everything that anyone connected with heavy-weight boxing has to say before the middle of next summer might be discounted as ballyhoo for Dempsey's next fight.

Scraps for the heavyweight championship have become such tremendous business propositions that it takes almost a year to get over with one. It requires miles of columns and tons of words.

The miles of words and the tons of conversation will be dished out from now until next July.

CAPPER ASKS LAW TO STOP HASTY MARRIAGES

Washington, Jan. 24.—Legislation designed to stop "hasty and foolish marriages" and to make divorce harder, was introduced in the senate by Senator Arthur Capper (rep. Kan.). Capper presented a bill to be known as the federal marriage and divorce law, and a constitutional amendment, to give congress power to enact such a law.

Let Convictions Be Firm.

To be long for this thing today and that thing tomorrow; to change likings for loathings, and to stand wishing and hankering at a venture—how is it possible for any man to be at rest in this fluctuating humor and opinion?—L'Estrange.

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists.
